We'll start our tour to the Sacred Valley and Moray in Cusco from Peru. With this full-day tour, you will have the great chance to visit the Sacred Valley in its entirety starting with the beautiful colonial Inca town of Chinchero (3762 m) and enjoy the beautiful view of the Inca and Colonial legacies that still standing in this town. In addition, you can appreciate the artistic textile in the hands of the people dedicated to this activity. It has a spectacular view that would surprise anyone, leaving you very interesting memories. Then we go to the archaeological complex of Moray, located in the district of Maras (3300m), in this place you can appreciate the most impressive and unique Inca agricultural laboratory: here it is where the Incas were able to experience the different geographical altitudes for agricultural use in just one place. The history of this place in Maras Moray is breathtaking and the view is epic. As well we will visit the salt mines, a beautiful place where we find a set of about approximately 3000 wells that residents use and benefit from them; You will not regret the beautiful view that awaits you at this place. Remember to take photos of Moray! Our next stop will be Urubamba (2871 m) where we will enjoy a delicious buffet lunch at our restaurant and we will get ready to continue our tour. Then we go to the Inca town of Ollantaytambo (2792 masl), called "Inca Living City" for being the only city in Cusco which is still inhabited; in addition to being surprised by the striking beauty of the archaeological complex you will be impressed with the extraordinary Inca urban planning that is still standing and inhabited by the present population, the streets of Ollantaytambo will make you fall in love. Now we go to the last point, Pisac (2900 m), one of the most important of the Sacred Valley agricultural and spiritual centers, the archaeological complex, from which you will see the river Vilcanota and much of the Sacred Valley, then we go to one of the most popular artisan markets of Cusco and with the best prices. Visit the Sacred Valley is an excellent chance to learn lots of new things. Interesting, cultural, ancient... Worth memories. At the end of your tour we will leave you at Plaza San Francisco at 6.45pm approximately
